Test ID and OpenSource Code Signing certificates

The certificates let you become more familiar with the functionality and benefits derived from the application of the products offered by CERTUM, without incurring any costs during the trial period.

As in the case of commercial certificates, test certificates are issued in accordance with the WebTrust standard and recognized for their reliability on a global scale - including all the most popular web browsers and products of the world leaders in software.

In order to obtain a test certificate fill out the form below:

Certificate will be issued within 3 working days after filling out the form.

If you already have an account in our internet shop and you want to test certificate please Sign In.
